

ABSTRACT

A run-in coating is for gas turbines. The run-in coating is used for sealing a radial gap between a housing of the gas turbine and rotating rotor blades of same, the run-in coating
5 being applied onto the housing. The run-in coating is made of an intermetallic titanium-aluminum material.